The Golden Slipper was for many years one of the favourite dance spots in this part of Ontario. For the people of Haliburton County the simple mention of the Slipper will bring many hours of memories. The Slipper, because the building was deteriorating and becoming dangerous, was recently torn down by its last owners, Haliburton Youth Development. Al Perrin, the last owner of the building to hold dances, tells the story of The Slipper on page five of this issue.

Anti-Inflation Board

CUPE workers rolled back

The Anti-Inflation Board had rolled back the settlement offered by the Haliburton County Board of Education to its C.U.P.E. workers.

The Board announced an increase of 45 cents an hour for its C.U.P.E. workers at the Feb. 22 Meeting. Word that the increase had been cut back "in strict adherence to the guidelines" to 41 cents an hour was given last Tuesday, April 12, by Jim Leworthy, business administrator with the Board.

Instead of $4.65 offered by the Haliburton Board's Salary Negotiating Committee, Board C.U.P.E. workers will receive $4.61 an hour. Head caretakers receive a slightly higher wage.

The contracts have now been signed by the local president and secretary of C.U.P.E., Mr. Leworthy said Monday, although the contracts have not yet been ratified by officials at union headquarters.

Mr. Leworthy told the Board meeting that, as far as he understood, Dysart municipal workers are receiving $4.73 an hour, 12 cents more than Board employees will earn.

Two years ago, Dysart labourers and School Board C.U.P.E. workers were receiving equal wages, both on two year contracts. The municipal workers renewed their settlement before the Anti-Inflation Board legislation went into effect, Mr. Leworthy explained Monday.

When the Board C.U.P.E. settlement came under review, the A.I.B. had been established and increases held down, creating a disparity between municipal and Board employees.

This year's offer of 45 cents an hour, which was over the amount set out in the A.I.B. guidelines, Mr. Leworthy said, would have brought Board and municipal workers slightly closer to wage parity, but the A.I.B. made no concession and kept the increase within the guidelines.

Mr. Leworthy noted at the meeting of the Board that salary increases of eight per cent agreed upon for the Board's salary personnel are within the guidelines, and although no comment has yet been returned from the A.I.B., no objection is expected.

Teacher says decline in ability to write

Thanks to the credit system, 25 per cent of the time formerly available for English instruction at the secondary level has been cut, resulting in "a considerable decline in the ability to write," according to Nona Lyn Philp, English Department head at the Haliburton Highlands Secondary School.

Miss Philp was present at the April 12 meeting of the Haliburton County Board of Education to discuss the organization and objectives of the English program with the trustees. A somewhat heated discussion followed Miss Philp's presentation of some of the problems faced by the English department at the secondary level.

In addition to the credit system, which leaves only five periods a week for English as opposed to eight under the old organization, Miss Philp noted that secondary teachers face the problem of a "divergence of what is taught in younger schools."

She noted that "by grade 11, students are past the age of learning grammar but they have not had the skills."

She saw a lack of communication between schools as a cause and said that there was "no course of study in some cases" or "a wide difference in content" in what was being taught at feeder schools. This means that secondary English teachers have a hard time establishing a curriculum that will suit all the students.

She suggested that there be a continuum of English studies from Kindergarten to grade 13.

Len Salvatori, trustee for Dysart et al, questioned why there should be a breakdown in communications between secondary and elementary levels. "I see professional development days as you people getting together and decoding on a common role or purpose so that when the students get to grade nine, they are much the same," he said.

J. Douglas Hodgson, director of the Board, objected to Miss Philp's comments, indicating that he felt Miss Philp was saying that senior teachers should have a choice in what they are able to include in their program, but that public school teachers should not.

He pointed out that no educational organization was on record as being in support of what Miss Philp was saying. According to current educational theories and practice, instruction "is not to be a lock-step arrangement" he said. He was concerned that the problems of English instruction at the secondary level were being attributed to a lack of groundwork in younger grades.

Richard Poole, chairman of the Board, suggested "we will be getting direction as time goes on" from the Ministry of Education, who "would like to see more English classes."

Mr. Salvatori pointed out the 30 minute period at the end of classes before buses leave as a possible source of extra time, but Miss Philp and others noted that the 30 minutes is well used for extra help and after-school activities.

According to Miss Philp, the reduction in the number of hours of English has caused the writing program to suffer most. She said that it was difficult for students to do research for essays since the libraries were inadequate.

This comment raised some opposition, and it was noted that the County Library system can put students in touch with any materials they need, as long as they ask for it on time.

A word of encouragement came when Miss Philp told

School temporarily hooked to sewers

A temporary connection from the Haliburton Highlands Secondary School from the septic tank to the sewer line as phase two of the sewer project gets underway in Dysart will save the Haliburton County Board of Education and taxpayers $100 a week.

The cost of the connection "not over $3,000 according to the School Board's business administrator, Jim Leworthy, "has already been paid for," in the amount saved. The cost of pumping the septic tank at the school in order to comply with health regulations was running $100 a week.

The use of the sewer connection, now operating for close to three weeks, Mr. Leworthy said, has already saved the Board the cost of the temporary measure.

Mr. Leworthy also noted that a request for fill from phase two of the sewer project had been made to increase the playing field at the high school. He told the Board that they were fifth on the list of priorities for the fill, with municipal projects being given top consideration.

Frank Miller knows what NDP think but is not sure about Liberals

Frank Miller, Minister of Natural Resources said that he knows what the New Democratic Party in Ontario is thinking, but he wishes he knew what the Liberals were thinking.

"The NDP have a chance at winning the next election, the Liberals do not," he said.

Mr. Miller, talking about the NDP said that "they do not have a monopoly on caring for the average man," that this caring is best done through the free enterprise system.

In the next election, Mr. Miller admitted that money alone will not win. He pointed out that the opposition is well organized and that money alone does not win elections but hard work does.

Speaking to a group of Haliburton County Conservatives at the PineStone Inn last Friday night, Mr. Miller also commented on the situation in Quebec.

He said that the country is right, noting that he enjoys being a Canadian. "We (Ontario) have to be prepared in the next few months to show leadership," he said.

Mr. Miller pointed out that 80 per cent of the people in Quebec want to stay in Canada, but they feel strongly about their heritage. He said that their rights have to be conserved within the province.

Mr. Miller also commented on the closing of a mine in Matachewan which saw a number of men put out of work. He said that the government couldn't control the situation because of their minority situation. He said that there is no safer place to work than in Ontario.

Meeting to be held on apportionment

A meeting of clerks and treasurers, of Haliburton County, is slated for May 5 at the Haliburton County Board of Education offices to arbitrate the objections to the 1977 school board apportionment.

The appealing townships this year are, as last, Anson, Hindon and Minden, Stanhope and Sherbourne, McClintock and Livingstone.

The meeting was announced at the Haliburton County Board of Education meeting April 12. J. D. Hodgson, director of the Board, noted that he was setting up the meeting, but that he would have no part in it.

The meeting of clerks and treasurers is the first step in the appeal that for the last two years has been taken to a hearing of the Ontario Municipal Board for a final decision. The appealing townships are objecting on the grounds of an unfair burden, based on apportionment from the current assessment rolls in the County.

With reference to the arbitration of clerks and treasurers, it was remarked

Fire protection comes first at home

Anson, Hindon and Minden Reeve Reg. Booth doesn't think that the municipality should be co-operating with other townships for fire protection.

Reeve Booth made the comment after a letter from the Township of Snowdon was read in regards to a fire protection agreement the township had with Anson, Hindon and Minden. Reeve Booth noted that at least Lutterworth agrees with the situation.

The letter from Snowdon said that Anson, Hindon and Minden is asking for a 200 per cent increase in fire protection over the last four years.

Snowdon recently purchased fire protection from Dysart et al for $500 a year plus costs compared to $1,500 that Anson, Hindon and Minden wants.

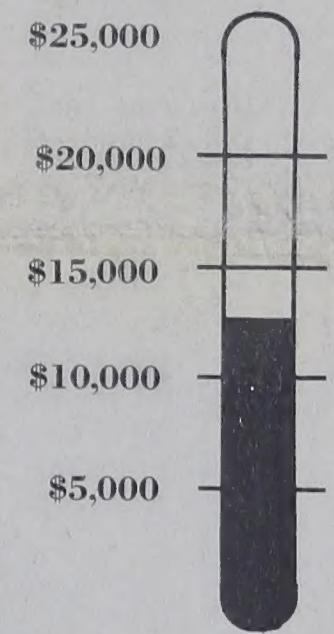

Reeve Booth said, "I don't like sending our equipment out," adding, "if there was a fire here we wouldn't be able to look our people in the eye again."

Crib-dock

Norm Harrison Sr. claims he will not remove a crib-dock from his land on Kashagawigamog Lake.

Mr. Harrison told Anson, Hindon and Minden council that they could send him to jail before he would move the dock.

Mr. Harrison was informed by the council that if he did not remove the dock, the municipality would.

Arena fund

A total of $12,305 has been collected towards the goal of $25,000 for the repairs and improvements to the Dysart Community Centre. The most recent donation was $5,000 from the Royal Canadian Legion, Haliburton Branch. Among the many improvements to the arena will be the installation of glass around the ice surface. Donations may be sent to Box 382, Haliburton.

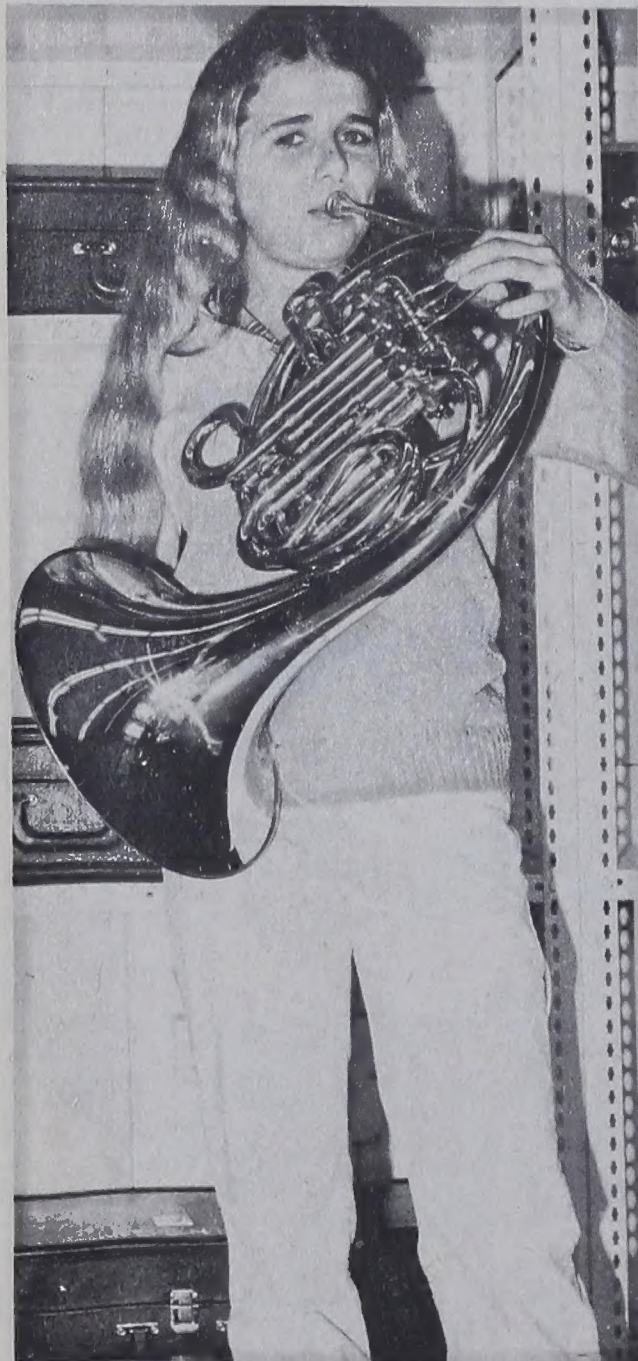

Camp owners better able to run parks

The province of Ontario does not run parks as efficiently as private camp owners, according to Frank Miller, Minister of Natural Resources and MPP Muskoka.

Mr. Miller was speaking to Haliburton County Progressive Conservatives at a meeting at the PineStone Inn last Friday.

He told those in attendance at the meeting that the prices at provincial parks has to reflect costs of the private camp ground owners.

He noted that the government will never be able to meet the total demand for campgrounds.

Ann Marie VanLieshout took top spot in the French Horn Division at a band competition last week in Bancroft. For more details see page 3.

The Minister of Natural Resources, Frank Miller (right) stands with other head table guests at a supper meeting held at the PineStone Inn last Friday. Mr. Miller told those at the meeting that the battle in the next provincial election will not be between the Liberals and Conservatives, but between the New Democrats and the Conservatives.

Remove tax for accomodations

In preparation for the coming Tourist Season, and in view of the continual decline in tourism visitation from the United States, John Eakins, M.P.P. (Victoria-Haliburton) asked in the Legislature if Claude Bennett, Minister of Industry and Tourism, would recommend to the Treasurer a temporary removal of the retail sales tax from accomodation rental in Ontario from May through October, inclusive.

"The Minister's answer was a flat 'no,'" a release from Mr. Eakins stated. In a supplementary question from Mr. Eakins, the Minister said that any further action he might take would have to await Mr. McKeough's budget presentation next week. With the continual decline of American visitors in Ontario, Mr. Eakins recommended concrete action by the Ministry of Industry & Tourism.

Octave (Marc Royer) pours out his problems to his questionable mentor Sylvestre (Pierre Drolet) and to a newly awakened friend, Scapin (Luc Elia). In Moliere's Les Fourberies du Scapin, a comedy that became almost riotous as it wound to its villainous denouement, these members of the Toronto based theatre du P'tit Bonheur entertained French students

The Town Clerk of Haliburton, Ontario.

Sir:

My letter of August 19th, 1976 probably did not reach you. So may I repeat the contents of it:

I am collecting material on the Canadian historian humorist Thomas Chandler Haliburton who published most of his works under the name of the character he created, Sam Slick, the Clockmaker.

I learnt that Haliburton came back to Upper Canada in September 1861 to negotiate in the interests of the Canadian Land Immigration Company the purchase of an extensive area of unoccupied country near Peterborough to be held for settlement and improvement. The county and town founded there still carry his - Judge Haliburton's - name as a memorial

Legion news and notes

The regular monthly meeting of Branch 129, Royal Canadian Legion was held in the hall Thursday, April 7. There were 2 applications for Ordinary membership and 3 for Associate membership, all were passed. Letters were received from Legion branches in Lindsay and Fenelon Falls asking the band to be in attendance at the District convention in Lindsay, April 24 and at the LA F4 rally in Fenelon Falls, May 29. The President would like to see a good turnout from this branch at the District Convention next week end, so comrades let us have a good show from Branch 129.

The tickets for the car draw are now available, and all members are urged to get some from the bar, they are very easy to sell this year, and be sure to buy your own early, we expect an early sellout. A report was made by the Building Committee chairman Comrade Cliff Dawson, and on a motion by Oscar Stewart seconded by Arn Pennycook the committee was given the go ahead on the next stage of the plan. It is hoped that the actual work on the extension and renovations can get underway by September. A motion was made to make a contribution to the Community Centre fund.

On April 2nd the bowlers from Branch 129 journeyed to Peterborough to compete in the District competitions and two of our members, Wes Stata and Fred Cox went on to the Provincial playoffs at Thorold the following Sat. April 9th. They didn't win but they made a good showing for Branch 129. Better luck next year lads.

The meeting on May 5th, is election of officers, get out and vote for the candidate of your choice. On Thursday, June 9th the Legion will be sponsoring the Martin and Downs Circus at the Community Centre grounds. This promises to be a good night of good clean family entertainment so plan to come out and support this effort. The 50-50 draw was won by Comrade Jim Congdon.

of this visit and transaction. I shall be very grateful for any further information to be found in your records or files of your town and more details and the historical development of this settlement.

Do you still preserve letters of Haliburton's or a portrait, photo or some further material which might be interesting in connection with Judge Haliburton.

I shall be grateful for any help and hint you can give me to promote my research on this celebrated Canadian writer.

Sincerely yours,
Dr. K.H. Sundermann

P.S. For helping postal service I shall describe the situation of your town on the address.

Garbage collection proposed

A letter from the Ministry of the Environment and a presentation from Ken Fielding, of Minden, put the problem of garbage collection on the table at Stanhope council last Wednesday.

The letter indicated that the Ministry is performing a county-wide survey on the need for garbage collection. Mr. Fielding outlined a system of container services which would mean that five dumping sites could be located in Stanhope, with garbage trucked to a central land fill site. This would control the problem of burning at dumps and improve the general situation, Mr. Fielding suggested. He noted that door-to-door collection was probably not a viable alternative in a rural area.

Reeve Sinclair Nesbitt noted that if council was successful in finding a dumping site near Pine Springs and at Kushog Lake, the containerized services would not be necessary at this time.

Mr. Fielding noted that the container method might reduce costs and that it could be operated on land that was leased to the municipality. Council showed interest in the proposition, which would enable them to locate the 30 cubic foot boxes where they chose, but the matter went to the table without a resolution.

Man is satisfactory after found in ditch

Norman Edward Odell, is in satisfactory condition at Ross Memorial Hospital but he likely owes the fact that he is still alive to a couple of alert members of the Minden detachment of the Ontario Provincial Police.

Constables Al Barnes and Gary Chapman were north-bound on Highway 35, just south of Fairfield Bay when they noticed a vehicle upside down in the ditch. The accident took place early Saturday morning.

The driver, Mr. Odell was located about 60 feet beyond the wreck. Mr. Odell's clothes were ripped and he was lying in about two inches of water, part of which had turned to ice. The officers found Mr. Odell at about 3:30 a.m. and Constable Chapman stayed with Mr. Odell while Constable Barnes went for an ambulance. The ambulance arrived at 4:10 a.m.

Mr. Odell was admitted to hospital in critical condition with a collapsed lung, broken ribs, eye and internal injuries.

The police report that Mr. Odell had spent some length of time in the ditch prior to being found.

Four car crashes

The Minden detachment of the Ontario Provincial Police investigated four motor vehicle collisions and 68 general occurrences, during the week of April 11 to 17.

There were four break-ins reported, seven persons charged with Liquor Licence Act violations and three persons were charged with impaired driving.

Why resolution passed against water slalom

Present at Stanhope council last Wednesday, to ask "what criteria were used to pass this resolution" pertaining to the forbidding of water ski slalom courses in Stanhope Township, Mr. & Mrs. Robert Townsend of Kushog Lake questioned council's decision with some warmth.

Council advised the Townsend's that the decision of February 9 was not lightly made and that about 10 letters had been received in complaint against the Townsend's proposal to construct a water ski slalom course in front of their property on Kushog Lake.

"I think it's good resolution so you tell me why it's not," said Reeve Sinclair Nesbitt.

Mr. Townsend indicated that they had canvassed all the cottagers affected and received only one objection. The Townsend's felt that council may have listened to objections based on faulty information from persons whose property would not be directly affected.

Mr. Townsend also said that they had been advised by a lawyer that the township could not prevent the use of the ski course by bylaw and that it was a civil matter.

The intention of constructing a slalom course was to restrict water skiing to one area of the lake, Mrs. Townsend pointed out, so that the activity would both -er fewer people than it might now.

Mr. Nesbitt told the Townsends "anyone on the lake would be affected" and as well, "you owe the same protection of the lakeshore as we owe". Council acknowledged that the Townsends had to come to council for approval, so there was little question about whether or not council had a say in the matter.

Statement of purpose is issued by county social planning council

The Haliburton County Social Planning Council has issued a statement of purpose.

The statement pointed out that generally the council is to promote the well being of the county and all its citizens.

Specifically the council is to analyze, through study the ideals of our society; the impact of change on the realization of these ideals and the social and physical phenomena which are or may become detrimental to life in the community.

Secondly the council is to encourage appropriate and effective responses to identified inadequacies through new as well as existing institutions and through community and special interest groups.

Thirdly the council is to promote communication about and among social agencies, among identifiable groups within the community and to provide information to individuals as well as to the public at large about existing community resources and services.

Frank Miller, Minister of Natural Resources, sits with Jim Webster, Progressive Conservative candidate for Victoria-Haliburton, at a meeting held last week at the PineStone Inn. The two were guest speakers at the meeting.

Board signs basically same agreement

The Haliburton County Board of Education, April 12 supported a resigning of an agreement with Brownale (Haliburton area) that is basically the same agreement other years, according to the Director of Education, J. D. Hodgson, except that Brownale staff is now to be consulted on any hiring of new staff members.

As Richard Poole, chairman of the Board noted, the "Brownale was established to act as a half way house to get back into the system" and that the main reason that students are placed in Brownale homes "is the non-acceptance of the schools".

Mr. Hodgson reported that there have been some difficulties with the Brownale programs this year, and that most of the staff has changed in the year. He said that it was a problem trying to get workers and teachers at Brownale, working together towards goals.

Brownale now seems "to have a more permanent group" Mr. Hodgson said. He explained that the five teachers who work with Brownale students are paid 100 percent by the provincial government, although they work under Stuart Baker of Archie Stouffer Public School, in Minden, and are hired by the Haliburton County Board.

Mr. Hodgson said that if the young people at Brownale homes were taught in schools instead, 40 to 60 percent of the cost of their education would have to be raised from the local taxpayers, "so there was no reason not to renew the agreement".

Brownale meant more work than usual this year from Mr. Baker and Mr. Hodgson and, Mr. Hodgson said, "we were not completely satisfied with what was going on there last fall".

"You can't cure everything that is wrong with education in Haliburton County, in one year, or a lifetime", Mr. Hodgson said. He concluded, "but we are happy with the agreement".

The special education program, according to the agreement, is carried out at no cost to the Board. The Ministry of Education subsidizes instructional supplies and furnishings as

Heritage poster contest held by Kinsmen

The South Algonquin Kinsmen recently sponsored an Heritage Day Poster Contest for the pupils of Wilberforce and Gooderham Public Schools.

Judging the contest were a number of senior citizens from the area.

In the kindergarten division Arlene White of Gooderham, was first, Richard Murdoch of Wilberforce was second and Troy Main of Wilberforce was third. Honorable mention went to Lisa Corbett of Wilberforce.

Laura Kendall of Gooderham was first in the grade one division while Terry Noble of Wilberforce was second and Shannon Mintz of Gooderham was third. Danny Billings of Gooderham was given an honorable mention.

The grade two division was won by Jeff Smith of Gooderham, Benny Storey of Wilberforce was second and Robbyn Remelgas of Gooderham was third. Kyra Dahlke of Wilberforce received an honorable mention.

Mark Noseworthy of Gooderham won the Grade three division with Wendy Corbett of Wilberforce second and Douglas Staley of Gooderham third. Honorable mention went to Steven Hunter of Wilberforce.

The grade four division went to Brian Mullins of Wilberforce with George MacDuff of Gooderham second and Cindy Riel of Gooderham third. Blair Sleeper of Gooderham received an honorable mention.

In a release from Alex Mullins, first vice president of the club said that they would like to express their gratitude to the principals, teachers and pupils of the schools.

He noted that the club would also like to thank the Wilberforce senior citizens for making the contest a success.

"It was certainly refreshing to see the children in kindergarten through grade four at these schools taking such an active interest in the heritage of this great country," Mr. Mullins said.

It may go on during school time, but for most of the students involved the fifteen minute morning sessions with one of a dozen mothers who help in a special program at the school, the sessions in the Victoria Street foyer are fun and games. Brenda Robinson was present Friday to help Troy Austin, Cory Hutchings and Kimmy Eade, all of Maraylene Welch's grade one class, with phonetic reading skills. Victoria Street opens its doors to the parents of its students and reaps some very much appreciated support in return.

Band takes top spot at secondary school competition

The Haliburton Highlands Secondary School Junior Band came home from a competition in Bancroft with a number of awards under its belt. The band was given a special trophy for having the highest marks in the competition which also meant it was number one in the junior competition.

Ann Marie VanLieshout was the winner in the grade nine division for French Horn with a mark of 85.

The woodwind quartet of Shelly Hicks, Debbie Holland, Cindy Manley and Jocelyn Kennedy tied for first in its division with a mark of 80.

Dennis Stribling finished second in the grade nine trumpet solo division with a mark of 80.

the Board that for the last two years, all grade 13 students have taken at least on English. More than one English is available at most levels. This year creative writing options are being introduced for grade 11 and 12, which will round out the program, although probably it was noted, it will benefit most of those students who are interested and good at English already.

Mr. Poole, thanked Miss Philp for her participation in a program that his bringing all department heads before the board to speak about their programs. "This particular discussion is what we've been looking for. We have had good presentations, but no heat", he said. He noted that the board wanted to hear about the problems, and said that the communication between elementary and secondary schools "has been happening and will continue".

"Education is a very flexible thing," he said, and there would be ways found to solve the problems.

Parents and students are involved at Victoria Street

A focus on Victoria Street School during Education Week sheds light on a program that involves parents, students and teachers, in an intricate co-operative effort - education.

It is a researched fact that a child will do as well in school as their parents attitude towards the school suggests, John Fitzgerald, teacher at Victoria Street explained Monday.

In order to get parents into the school, helping with and supporting school programs, and in order to give some children the extra attention of different learning environment that they need, Victoria Street began a new program just after Christmas with Mr. Fitzgerald's help.

Every morning at the school, mothers come in to play with the children, that is, the children think that they are playing. The mothers and teachers know that the children are learning.

Through a variety of games and exercises that disguise their learning value beneath simple and fun to do tasks, 12 to 15 volunteers have been working with about 30 children, taking them aside from their regular classroom work for 15 minute periods throughout the morning hours of the school.

One mother works at a time with a group of three or four, keeps track of what the children have done that day and leaves the progress report for the mother who will work with them in the following session.

Mr. Fitzgerald noted that he encourages the parents to be as inventive as they like with the learning equipment that they have, developed at Guelph University as a way to help young students with phonetic reading.

Ruth Corrie, principal at Victoria Street noted that the individual help that the students receive carries over back into the classroom. The young ones are so pleased with the success that they have with the program that they work even harder to catch up what they might have missed in their few minutes away.

Mr. Fitzgerald's enthusiasm with the program has carried over to teachers, students and parents involved. He explained that he hopes the program will become one that is run by the parents themselves, as it is to a great extent now, and that to date it has been very well received.

Parents are so important in a child's schooling than an effort by all concerned to get together on getting the children ahead can only make the school better than it already is.

Mrs. Gorrie explained that most of the classes were not having open house this week since "all the parents are in and out of the school all the time anyway". Each student is writing a story and drawing a picture for a school newspaper which is to be published in honour of education week.

Co-operation and continuing enthusiasm are keeping Victoria Street very much alive.

Shelly Hicks, Debbie Holland, Jocelyn Kennedy and Cindy Manley are members of a junior quartet from Haliburton Highlands Secondary School which finished in a tie for first in their group in a band competition in Bancroft. The junior band from the school ended up first in their division as well.

Echo editorials

Not just hockey at fault on Sundays

The question has come up in our letters to the editor column, in the past few weeks, re the subject of sports events being held on Sundays. What was pointed out was the fact that minor hockey tournaments being played on Sundays was effecting the attendance at the various Sunday Schools in the area.

It is our opinion that there are six other days in the week for sports events and other social functions to be held. But sitting back and sizing the situation up, we find that more and more everything these days has to be held on Sunday.

We think that it's a bit unfair just to single hockey out as there are many other attractions now shifting from weekdays to Sundays. For instance, curling bonspiels are held on Sunday and this year, for the first time to our knowledge, the Haliburton and Minden Figure Skating Carnivals were both held on Sunday afternoon. Meetings which were usually held during the week are now in many cases being held on Sundays. Even the Annual Commencement Exercises, at the Haliburton Highlands Secondary School are held on a Sunday afternoon. We could go on and on but time and space does not permit us to do so.

This may be 1977 but Sunday is still the Sabbath Day. This is the one day of the week when we should be in church and following this spend the remainder of the day with our families.

If things are not changed then Sunday will become just another day without any meaning. We are living in a sick society and it's just about time that we all started to change our ways of living or we are heading into a disastrous situation.

Recreation happens outside as well

People involved in recreation are always set to go when it comes to repairing or building something indoors, but this year in Haliburton there may be a need to get going outdoors.

Softball in the area is advancing and this year, with any luck, the residents will see the local club performing in a higher calibre league than last year.

If this is the case then some changes will have to be made to the park.

In all likelihood a fence will have to be constructed around the playing field. Presently in the outfield there is a cable strung around which makes it difficult to tell who hit the homeruns but it also is dangerous for the outfielders.

We would suggest that the cost would not likely be extremely high to build a fence around the entire field which would make it possible for the teams to charge a small admission and help offset some of the operating costs.

Association for retarded one of least visable

One of the least visable groups in Haliburton has been the Haliburton and District Association for the Mentally Retarded.

The group has worked quietly for many years, for the mentally retarded people in our community. Perhaps now is the time though that the association becomes more visable and an active fund raiser in the community.

Presently the association is looking for the support of the residents of Haliburton to supply enough funds to set up a residence for retarded adults.

There are many worthwhile projects we can donate our money to, but the most worthwhile of them all are those directly involved people.

Haliburton Highlights

BY CREIGHTON FEIR

The old Haliburton Curling arena will soon be torn down. Tenders are now out for the dismantling and or demolition, removal and site levelling of the 70' x 160' structure. A new curling arena will then be constructed on the same site.

The Haliburton Area Radio Club invites all licensed G.R.S. Operators to help in producing a reference directory. Anyone wishing to have their name listed, drop a card of note to the Haliburton Area Radio Club at Box 711, Haliburton with the following information, your personal name, city or town of residence, XM number, and the channel you monitor. No skip handles please.

Lloyd Coneybeare of Haliburton was one of those lucky fellows who had a ticket for the opening game of the Toronto Blue Jays. He not only attended the game but had the honour of being a guest of the Board of Directors of the Toronto Blue Jays Baseball Club at a reception held at Exhibition Stadium held prior to the game. Lloyd was accompanied to the game and reception by Mr. Gordon Cuthbertson of Toronto.

We expect that council will be doing more work on the newly constructed park on Head Lake near the CNR station this year. Trees will have to be planted there and picnic tables erected. We also hope that the wooden bridge that has been talked about will be built over the Drag River linking the new park with the present Rotary Park and Beach.

The Rotary Club of Haliburton are seriously considering dropping the annual Festicolour and concentrating more on the summer and winter carnivals. Maybe the Kinsmen would be interested in running festicolour this year.

Most of the talk around local sports circles these days seems to be about the Toronto Blue Jays, but boy the Toronto Maple Leaf hockey club aren't going to take a back seat and are getting plenty of ink in the press as they are putting up a terrific battle in the playoffs.

The ice is out of Head Lake at Haliburton, and we are finally getting some weather, so spring shouldn't be too far away.

The Haliburton-Victoria Truckers Association held a meeting and Social Afternoon at Green Acres Restaurant in Cobocok last Saturday.

Last week a total of $8,305 had been collected towards the goal of $25,000 for the repairs and improvements to the Arena in Haliburton. Now is the time for your club or organization to make a donation to this fund. Individuals are also being called on to contribute.

Editor's notebook

BY JIM BADGLEY

The barbeque season has started, but as I sit writing this column there is still some snow in front of our house.

Since we are well into April I figure that it is about time that I helped it along. So along I went and shovelled the snow out into the sun to help it melt away. Believe me it was one of life's great pleasures to be able to sit outside and watch the last of the snow finally leave.

Last week Frank Miller, Minister of Natural Resources spoke to the local Progressive Conservative Association. Mr. Miller is an exceptional speaker and like many politicians in the modern mold is making his career by speaking honestly giving good and bad points of the present government in Ontario and what he would like to see and is attempting to see done.

He played it smart concerning the possibility of an election coming in the near future and didn't really commit himself to any great lengths on the subject, or at least said no more than has already been said.

I have lived in Haliburton County for about 10 months and I still marvel at the hard work and dedication of the people of Wilberforce and the Monmouth Township area. I was out to the Maple Syrup festival a couple of weeks ago and even at 9:30 in the morning the Watson Memorial Centre was filled to capacity.

Back to politics, I hate to predict anything but I can safely say that there will be an election in the next couple of months and it will be one of the toughest ever fought in Ontario.

The way things are going right now, I see a Conservative majority in the house with the New Democrats still carrying the opposition. The Ontario Liberals are rebuilding a party which has played second fiddle for many years and then suddenly found itself number three.

As others see it

Dear Sir:

The Social Planning Council has functions within Haliburton County for almost seven years yet many people are still unaware of its purposes, which is simply to promote the well being of the county and its citizens.

Every agency and service group should have a representative at our monthly meetings. By getting to know each others area of concern we can often eliminate over-lapping of services, solve problems by co-operating with each other and achieve a broader view of the county and it's need.

We are an unfunded group, our mail and other costs are paid for by the donations of the individual volunteer members and from the sale of our County Directories. At this date our bank account totals $2.26!

What we lack in finance we make up for in enthusiasm, patience and a genuine concern to remedy some of the inadequacies in our vicinity.

The need for an extended care facility was brought to our attention and a hard working committee were able to convince the appropriate authorities with the result we now have a sixty bed nursing home.

We have promoted seminars on drug and alcohol addiction, public discussions on the rising crime rate, bail and parole systems and child abuse.

At the present time we have recreation centres for Senior Citizens high on our list of needs as is also the residence of retarded adults.

Our meetings are open to anyone with a genuine concern for the people of our county. Information as to time and place of meetings may be obtained from the secretary, George Hardy, R.R. #1 Minden.

I am enclosing a copy of the statement of Purpose for the Social Planning Council which fully explains our objectives.

Yours sincerely,
Peggie Neville
Chairman, H.C.S.P.C.

Dear Sir:

Re: Better Scheduling - Editorial - April 13th
I wonder if you realize the time and effort spent organizing and presenting a Figure Skating Show.

This year, with the resignations of our President and Skating Professional due to illness, the Club has had to work hard and quickly to produce a show of any description. Fortunately with a few people and long hours this was made possible. Our skaters are to be commended for their efforts, as the majority of the time, they practised on their own with no instructions.

Also, it was our first attempt at a Sunday afternoon performance as opposed to a Friday or Saturday evening. This appealed to a number of people as it enable the family as a whole to be together and participate without interfering with their jobs or other activities.

There has always been communication between our club and Minden as well as other clubs in the area. Unfortunately, due to the circumstances, such as a Senior Test day in Minden the previous Sunday, the ice being taken out on the Monday following the shows, etc. the performances had to be held on the same day.

This, to my knowledge, has not happened before and hopefully won't happen again.

Our Club is already in the process of planning our next show which is to take place in February of 1978. This will enable us to commence early in the season and prepare a bigger and better performance.

We look forward to your continuing coverage in the next skating season.
Thank you.

Yours truly,
Dorothy Baker,
Haliburton Figure Skating Club.

It's spring. One can tell it's spring by the number of bicycles on the road, day and night; by the skipping ropes twirling round; by the roller skates humming on the sidewalks; by the clickety-clacking of wagons and tricycles and pedal cars. And there's something new on the scene this spring. That's skate boards...and they are a new and terrible danger for motorists in Goderich.

Farrah Fawcett Majors broke every rule in the book recently when she used a skateboard to escape a would-be killer. And the Ontario Safety League is not very happy about it.

On a recent edition of "Charlie's Angels", Miss Majors manoeuvred her skateboard through pedestrians in a park, upset customers at an ice cream stand, and clung to the back of a pick-up truck as it travelled down a highway. The sequence ended as Farrah collided with a parked car, flew over the hood and emerged, unscathed on the other side. Still beautiful - her coiffure was undamaged.

Real life skateboarders won't come out as lucky as Farrah should they try the same stunts. Miss Majors is one of the most popular stars of the season on television... but it should be remembered that she is on television and her skateboard escape was only an act for the cameras.

Skateboards have been around for a long time, but modern technology has taken over the toy and presented the world with a new, light-weight plastic and fiberglass model, with wider wheels and ballbearings. Safety league staff members say skateboarders can attain speeds of up to 30 mph on busy city streets - and that's hardly an ideal situation unless like Farrah Fawcett Majors, it is all a big act for the cameras.

There are safety precautions set out by manufacturers of skateboards, but as usual, they go unheeded by most skateboard enthusiasts. Manufacturers note that skateboards are not recommended for children under the age of 14. When being operated, the skateboarder should wear protective clothing and an approved safety helmet. As well, manufacturers warn skateboards should not be operated on public streets, or near traffic or parked cars.

Skateboards are fun. They provide healthy exercise. But they have no place on the streets of Goderich, especially in the hands of children. Even Farrah Fawcett would likely agree. - SJK

Memories of the Golden Slipper

Where friends meet friends and make friends

by Al Perrin

Friday, February 18th was the last of what has been a landmark, a place of recreation and dancing - where people of all ages for the past 43 years gathered, met and danced. The guideline was "Where friends meet friends and make friends" dancing at the Golden Slipper.

It also was the place where a good many young people met for the first time they're now husband and wife.

Back in the 30's, 40's and 50's there was dancing at the slipper every night including a holiday weekend midnight frolic to capacity crowds.

In 1934, Mr. Roy LaBoutillier built the dance pavilion on the north shore of Kashagawigamog Lake. After selecting a few names he decided on the golden slipper after the square dance number "Oh those Golden Slippers".

Al Perrin, with his dance band, joined Roy to supply the music and continued until 1944 when Al took the Slipper over and continued to operate it until 1974. He then sold it to Wren Blair who at that time, with Jim Gregory, Manager of the Toronto Maple Leafs, operated the Haliburton Hockey Haven. The Slipper was to be used as a youth recreation centre.

ALWAYS REMEMBERED

The Slipper will always be remembered for the smooth, highly polished hardwood, easy to dance on floor. The music in the 30's and 40's was the Ma's and 'pa's type. It was not only good for dancing, but listening as well.

Square dancing at that time was very popular. Different times there would be as many as 12 sets on the floor. Ross Blair was the regular caller and later Bob McCaw, Al himself as the situation called for, plus on different occasions a visiting caller.

Disturbances were at a minimum and the Slipper never had a so-called bouncer.

Mr. Perrin's past experience, in the entertainment field, gained the knowledge of how to cope with such occurrences in the making. Those that did develop the dancers accepted as a little extra amusement for the price of admission.

The photos of the different bands will no doubt be remembered by a good many. One musician in particular, Mr. Frank Faulkner, will be remembered for his laughing Sax and as a gold medalist square dance fiddler.

Other musicians who at different times played at the Slipper were Chris Young, Al Blanchard, Claude Wade, Marshal Leighton, Eddy Oscopeila, Bob White, Red Greer, Carl Holmstrom, Gordon Kennedy.

One piano player in particular, in the early days of the Slipper, was the late Mary Wood, who was admired and liked by everybody for herself and as an accomplished pianist and will be long remembered.

Other piano players who at different times played at the Slipper were Goldie Gamble, Ronny Bossart, Curly Trout, Mae Banthum, Wm. Clements, Bob Sutton and Tommy Hodgson.

From 1950 until 1966 Mr. Fred Clements took charge of the band and will be remembered not only for his good principles but as a musician and master of his instrument, the piano, as was Mr. Harold Broadhagen the violin, Harold Moore his sax and clarinet, Harry Bagshaw, bass. These boys were accomplished musicians and will long be remembered as such.

THE QUEEN MARY

Mr. Harold Broadhagen, who owned and was captain of the Queen Mary, a passenger boat, made trips to the Slipper with those who preferred to go by boat.

Harold would anchor the boat at the Slipper dock, play for the dance and at the end it would be announced that the Queen Mary would be leaving in 10 minutes. After Harold singing "Thanks for the Buggie Ride" or "What's the Colour of a Yellow Horse When the Old Horse is Blue" he would leave with his passengers and make the moonlight trip back to Haliburton.

DESTROYED BY FIRE

The Queen Mary, on a chartered trip to pick up some people at the different lodges, going through the narrows, caught on fire and was completely destroyed.

A local gentleman who has played the fiddle for a good many house parties, for the past number of years, and was always ready and willing to play if the occasion called for a square dance, was Mr. Robt. McKnight, to the delight of the square dancers.

ROCK MUSIC

In 1966 the young people demanded the rock music so in order to cope with the situation a band that was capable of playing both modern, square and rock dance music, to please everybody, The Telstars, and later changed their name to the Bad Habits, was contracted to play and proved to be the right band. A wonderful band that people came from as far away as Lindsay, Peterboro and Huntsville, on a Saturday night, to hear and dance to. Cars were lined for 1/2 mile in both directions from the Slipper, plus the parking lot full of cars.

The Bad Habits continued to play until 1970 when some of the members of the band decided they would like to have their Saturday night free, which meant the breaking up of the band.

For the next three seasons different bands were brought in from Lindsay, Oshawa, Toronto, etc. but none could equal or compare with the Bad Habits - except the last band, "Wee Four". Mr. Gordon Arnott will be remembered (organist in the photo) as a member of the Bad Habits.

At that time - after 43 years of operating the Slipper, Al had decided to sell the pavilion. So for a good many people, we say with deep feeling of nostalgia - and so ended a most colourful - popular and widely known dance pavilion in the Highlands of Haliburton, THE GOLDEN SLIPPER.

Physical fitness

by Margaret Milne

"GETTING STARTED"

If you wish to start a program of vigorous exercise to improve fitness, there are three tasks to get out of the way before beginning.

First of all you should know what condition you're in now. A local physician suggests that you should speak to your doctor before beginning if you have any chronic disease (such as asthma, diabetes, heart trouble, etc.) if there is any history in your immediate family of heart disease or unexplained sudden death at any early age, if you have any new or unexplained symptoms, or if you are over 40 and have not been exercising regularly.

If, however, you are in good health, you might want to try a 12 minute test. To do this, you run, or run and walk, as far as you can in 12 minutes. You can measure the distance before, or after, with your car odometer. Pick a time when you are well rested. Try to cover as much distance as you can, but don't push yourself to the point of extreme fatigue, shortness of breath, dizziness or nausea. If any of these occur, stop running. A distance of 1 1/2 miles or more indicates a good level of fitness in men (1.35 miles for women). A distance of less than a mile for men (.95 mile for women) indicates very poor condition. Taking the test isn't really necessary, but many like to. You could try it later to measure progress.

Now you must decide what exercise you are going to begin with. Later on you can mix various exercises, but at the beginning it is best to stay with the same exercise for at least two months. Walking and running is something nearly everyone can do, and very pleasant to do outdoors at this time of year. You will need sturdy and comfortable running shoes for this. If you have a three-speed or standard bicycle, you might prefer to use it for exercising. Bicycling is easier on the feet and ankles than running. If you are hesitant to exercise in public, you might prefer rope skipping or running in place indoors. This last exercise can be hard on feet, and should be done in good running shoes with a mat under the feet for protection. If you are fortunate enough to have or acquire a stationary bicycle with speed and mileage indicators and a brake resistance device, you could use that. It is a little too early for swimming, so I'll leave that one for now!

Now that you are ready to start your exercise program, you must decide how fast and how far (or

Maple Lake News

by Ada Gibbs

The April meeting of the St. Peter's A.C.W. was held at Peggy Barclays on the North Shore Road. There were 10 members and 1 guest present.

Devotions this month were given by Isabelle Gibbs and Carrie Drysdale and their message to their fellow members gave much food for serious thinking. Spring meetings give rise to new activities, and soon several projects will be under way, but it has been decided not to have a Barn Sale this summer. In May the group will meet in the church basement.

well as teachers salaries and administration costs.
All decisions for the program are to be made jointly after full discussion with all parties concerned, the agreement states. Browndale is responsible for ongoing assessment of all its students, as well as assessment, in consultation with classroom teachers and Board personnel, of a student's need to be placed in the Browndale School.

Margo Blair

in draw

The winner of a 20" colour TV draw of the Haliburton Curling Club was Margo Blair, R.R. #2, Haliburton.

The winning ticket number was 148.
The club would like to Thank all those who purchased tickets and congratulate Margo. The draw was made at the Annual Curling Banquet held Saturday, April 16, 1977.

Municipal lots

Two Stanhope municipal lots, on the northwest shore of Kushog Lake, have been sold at a price of $15,000 in total.

Council learned April 13 that the sale was complete. The Township held the lots under a quick claim deed given by the subdivider of the parcel of land.

The money will be used as a contribution to the local share needed to match a Wintario grant that is expected to provide 50 percent of the cost of the Stanhope Library opened last summer.

Mrs. Mildred Wright of Lindsay is visiting this week with her brother Mr. Oscar Sisson.

Friends of Tim Barnes will be interested to know that he has been enrolled recently in Wingfields, a Private School near Campbellford. Tim is enjoying the different environment and reports that he has made several new friends of his own age and he seems quite happy in his work.

It is good to have the Gordon Alcorn's back in our midst. They have been away all winter in Willowdale, and Brampton. What a dilly of a winter they missed this time! However, from my knowledge of both of those places, there would be plenty of winter to wade through.

Another successful Progressive Euchre party put on by the Combines is over, and if you happened to be present, you enjoyed lots of fun. Thirteen tables were in play this time, and several people who hadn't attended earlier Combine parties just realized what they have been missing. Prizes were awarded as follows:-

Ladies High - Peggy Henderson; Gentlemen's High - Bruce Medcalf Sr.

Ladies Low (on a cut with Gerrie Ripley) was Ruth Pogue; Gentlemen's Low - Norman Taylor.

Lone Hands - Ladies -

Lillian Gorveatt; Gents - Howard Walker.

Door Prizes were won by Alice Jones, and Gordon Cruickshanks (Wintario tickets).

A delicious lunch finished off the evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Sydney Barnes are taking advantage of the good weather this weekend, going to visit with their daughter Barbara at Seagrave, then continuing to Guelph to visit other relatives.

Sewer project

Should get permission

Anson, Hindon and Minden Reeve, Reg Booth, was concerned last week about the people working on the Minden sewer project going on residents property without asking permission. Reeve Booth told the council and Paul Fleming, inspector for Totten, Sims and Hubicki that he has had a number of complaints from local residents concerning messes left on people's property without the construction company getting permission to go on the property.

Mr. Fleming said that the companies involved can eliminate driving over private property if they can, but if they cannot, they should put the property back into a proper state.

He pointed out that the contractor is trying to do a good job and that he would speak to them about the private property problem.

Gems of Truth

"Burning Hearts"

"And they said one to another, did not our heart burn within us, while He talked with us by the way, and while He opened to us the Scriptures?" Luke 24:32.

The statement has been made that there is plenty of room among over organized Christian denominations for yet "One" more organization, which might well be called "The Fellowship of the Burning Hearts." This order would be composed of all true believers who gave such earnest attention to the words of the Lord Jesus that their hearts caught fire, and began to burn with zeal for the lost, having a deep love for Christ, and a holy hatred for sin in all its multiple forms.

It seems to be an established fact that the Church will remain powerless and unwanted because of the state of indifference and unconcern it manifests on every hand among the present generation of its membership, unless some sort of Divine fire kindled our hearts. The zeal which was so common in Apostolic and past generation days of revival, is so sadly missing in the average church-pew occupant of today.

The cause is not hopeless, past days of "dark ages" and periods of apostasy have been survived, and if the Lord Jesus delays His Return we will no doubt see "revival fires" blowing across the universe once more. There are signs of this in our present day, our God is not dead! He alone is able to bring us out of our present unconcern for the lost souls of men and women whom He longs to save from a long eternity of despair.

It seems our age has ceased to listen to the words of the Lord Jesus as the "Emmanuel" disciples did. Many have lost fellowship with Him and no longer meditate upon what the "Scriptures" say. In places and among people where the Bible is accepted as the very Word of God, then studied with reverence and diligence, revival and fervor of faith glow brightly. It is a heart warming experience when new desires to probe into the Scriptures and find the truth that Jesus unfolded on that first Easter day to the two travellers on the Emmaus road, Luke 24:13-27. The theme of that discourse was "Christ in the Scriptures". Not only did He go back into the Old Testament book of Moses and showed how he had portrayed His coming, but He also opened their eyes to the fact that the Messianic Psalms were inspired by the Spirit of God and how they presented all the happenings of Calvary. He showed them also how Isaiah anticipated that event and that each of the Prophets spoke of a salvation that would be "by faith", after the price had been paid in full.

Jesus made the Word of God really live to those two lonely companions on the Emmaus road. Their understanding was opened to brand new truths as He taught them the promises of the Word and its prophecies. Calvary and the Resurrection were their only hope, so no wonder that their hearts burned! They saw truth as it was in Christ for the first time. The New Testament is merely the Holy Spirit's commentary on the Emmaus discourse!

In the Holy Book there is revealed to man his deepest need and that need is "a walk with his Creator". Yes, one of the many wonders of the Word is that we can walk with the Risen Lord and learn from His lips those "gems of truth" that make for true fellowship with the precious Saviour. He will talk about His coming to die for our sins and He will talk about His coming again for His own. He will teach us how to live for Him till He comes in the Epistles.

Do you long for a walk with Him? That walk is marked for us in His Word, and not neglect its guidelines and your heart will burn with Divine love also.

Mrs. Wilfred Croft, 88, Mrs. Frank Schofield, 92, and Mrs. Ethel Farr, 83, are joined by Monmouth Deputy Reeve, Keith Tallman and congratulated on their contribution to the Wilberforce Arena Fund that has passed the $17,000 mark on the thermometer. The three don't expect to use the ice surface, but all said that they wanted to see the addition to the community and knew that they would benefit in other ways and at other times, perhaps than in hockey season. Private donations follow only the Kinsmen pledge of $5,000 as the second largest source of funds to date.

Thermometer is up to $17,625 in Wilberforce

The Wilberforce fund thermometer, for the proposed new arena, climbed to $17,625 as of last Friday, with the help of many groups and private donations from people who would like to see a new facility even if they don't intend to get on the ice.

Wilfred Croft, nearly 88, Ethel Farr, 83 and Mrs. Frank Schofield, 92, are only three of Wilberforce residents who have donated to the fund because, Mrs. Farr says, "we believe we should have something for the younger generation".

All have been involved with the arena throughout the years. Mrs. Croft operated the first snack bar there. "It was my baby" she says, for 25 years.

Mrs. Schofield's husband donated the land for the first arena, and Mrs. Farr, like many others, has seen a family grow up on the rink.

Community-minded Wilberforce boasts eleven groups or fund raising events to date who are helping to push the thermometer to the goal of $55,000, to be matched by Wintario. One of the highest amounts comes from individual contributions.

The South Algonquin Kinsmen have pledged the largest amount which they intend to add in three installments. Their generous contribution is $5,000.

The private sector is next, having already handed in $3,225.59 in cash donations.

Other contributors include a Walkathon which raised $1,862.66; Autumnfest which brought in $2,469.92; New Year's Eve Dance $872.76; Roast Beef Dinner, $908.83; Maple Syrup Festival, $1,502.97 (including $567.19 in proceeds donated from the Wilberforce Curling Club Dance); Library Quilt Draw, $102.50; Skate-a-thon (to date) $1,331.62; Harcourt Recreation Board (specific donation for a trophy case and plaque) $250.00; and the Stanley Cup Draw (to date) $99.00.

Inventiveness shown in fund raising has far been easily matched by the programs that are set to go in the next few months.

A Wilberforce Youth Club Carnival will be held June 25 for the whole Saturday, topped by an evening dance, a barbecue beef dinner is to be held May 21 in conjunction with a Kinsmen auction; there is to be a raffle on a lakeshore lot for which the tickets are now being printed; and on July 1 an Old country Dance will be sponsored by the Legion, featuring square dancing and a fiddle contest.

The contract for the new arena will be awarded in Mid-May, council hopes. As plans for the building roll in, so do the funds.

The Word of God

by Brian V. Sullivan

Among the many promises of the angel (Gabriel) to Zacharias (the father of John the Baptist) found in Luke 1:13-17, we find these words: "And he shall go before him in the spirit and power of Elias, to turn the hearts of the fathers to the children, and the disobedient to the wisdom of the just; to make ready a people prepared for the Lord."

To come in the 'spirit and power of Elias (Elijah) would be to resemble Elijah in purpose and preaching. But who was Elijah?

Elijah was a non-writing prophet who is first introduced in 1 Kings 17. He seems to come out of nowhere. There is no record of his call to prophesy, yet we know that God was with him as is shown in 1 Kings 17:2. He lived during trying times for a servant of God.

He condemned Ahab the King for his wickedness, and dwelt in the wilderness for a time. He was threatened by the wicked wife of Ahab, Jezebel, and seemed like a lone voice crying for return to God among an idolatrous nation. After the death of Ahab and Jezebel, the king of Samaria (or, the Northern tribes) was sick and God sent Elijah to relate the message they had received from "this hairy man, girl with a girdle of leather". The king recognized him as Elijah, God's prophet. It came to pass just as God through Elijah had declared.

Now, let's notice the parallels. Elijah was a non-writing prophet, so was John. Elijah was out in the wilderness, so was John. God spoke through Elijah, and God spoke through John. Elijah was clothed with a leathern girdle and so was John. The most trying burden of Elijah was to preach against a wicked king who was fired up by a more wicked woman. John preached condemnation against Herod for living in adultery with his brother's wife. The hatred of this woman was the reason for John's beheading (Matthew 14:1-12) Elijah lived in the midst of religious pollution and idolatry. The Judea of John's day was filled with corruption and lack of remembrance of God. Elijah had been almost a lone voice in his day pleading for God, and John likewise stood almost alone. Truly John had come in the "power and spirit of Elias". Next week: John's relationship with the Christ.

Minden buys grader

Anson, Hindon and Minden Council last week accepted a tender from Dominion Road Machinery for a grader at a monthly rental cost of about $1,900 totalling about $68,000.

The tenders on the grader ranged from about $22,000 to a high of almost $92,000.

Reeve Reg Booth said that as far as he could guess the total cost for the taxpayers would be about $7,000 a year considering that the municipality would be able to rent the service to neighboring municipalities.

Council also agreed to purchase a gas powered truck from Curry Motors at a cost of $22,176.82 with sales tax. The bid from Curry's was the lowest for the truck.

Board buys new tractor

The lowest of four quotations received for a 40 horse power diesel tractor with bucket and blade has been accepted by the Haliburton County Board of Education in the amount of $9,204.

The tractor is to be used at Archie Stouffer Public School, and is similar to the one at the Haliburton Highlands Secondary School. $10,000 was earmarked in the budget for this purpose, it was noted at the April 12 meeting of the Board of Education.

Jim Leworthy, business administrator of the Board, said that experience with maintenance shows that in 12 months, the Board "spent $2,000 plus on tractors, mainly on the ones in Minden", but there have been no maintenance costs on the large tractor in four years.

It was pointed out that the municipality of Dysart et al was offering their used tractor for sale at a cost of $3,000. Mr. Leworthy explained that the eleven year old tractor cost the municipality $2,800 when it was new. It was not considered by the Board.

Fellowship and service

The Haliburton Chapter of Evangelical Fellowship of Canada has been laying plans for community involvement of God's people in meaningful fellowship and helpful service.

It is pleased to have been able to accommodate the youthful singing group from the Vineland area and they will be in our community April 30 - May 1st.

These singers range in age from grade seven to university level and have their own instrumental background setting. They come to us highly recommended for their down to earth musical presentation that lifts the worshipper heavenward.

It will be a rare treat to see and enjoy this presentation at the Haliburton Secondary School on Friday eve April 29th. Be sure to tell your friends and fill the hall for this blessed occasion. They will be in Minden area Sat. and Sun. Watch for ad. No admission charge.

continuation of the Boshkung Lake slalom course since it was in operation before the passing of the bylaw. Councillor Napier Simpson noted that it will stay in operation as a legal non-conforming use.

Ross Pawson, of Pawson Marine was present with the Townsends to say that the Boshkung course, which at his property has been operating for 18 years and was accepted by cottagers when hours for the use of the course were restricted.

The Townsends said that they were willing to consider such an arrangement, hoping that people might agree with the course which would restrict skiing in time and area. Mr. Townsend noted that ski jump, which was in the original proposal, was no longer a part of the project.

Council determined to contact all property owners' associations in the Township to gather their views on water ski courses and hoped to have that information available for the next council meeting.

It was also agreed that the Townsends could have copies of the letters of complaint with the names of the objectors deleted.

Report from Queen's Park BY MPP JOHN EAKINS

I and my colleagues have this week released a policy paper outlining the position of our Party in the field of small business - a sector which has been given little assistance by the provincial government. The problems and needs of small and large businesses are not the same. Small business is flexible, able to adapt quickly to change in the market, possesses great potential for technological and other innovation, and employs between 50% and 60% of all Canadians. It is labour-intensive and can create new jobs much more quickly and cheaply than capital-intensive industries. We believe that a legislative commitment to small business should be undertaken - similar to the U.S. federal government commitment.

The lack of managerial expertise and entrepreneurial spirit have had serious results for the viability of small business, and we have proposed the establishment of entrepreneurial advisory centres, to be funded by the government and administered by the private sector. Shortage of capital also severely restricts the start-up and expansion of small business. We propose allowance of a full tax deduction against other income for investment in venture capital corporations for small business start-ups and expansions by both corporations and individuals, and provision for government sharing of losses actually experienced by financial institutions on loans provided to small business.

At present, the burden of payroll taxes to pay the increasing costs of social welfare programmes falls mostly heavily on small firms. There are no income compensating public policies to offset this drain on profits, which in turn restricts capital formation and therefore the ability to finance growth. We have proposed government payment of payroll taxes for each additional worker employed by a firm in a given year, up to a net gain in manpower of ten persons, for a three year period. Corporate tax costs of small businesses should be lowered to ensure their ability to develop internally-generated sources of equity capital. The forgivable succession duty on small family business corporations could be extended to apply to businesses where shares are owned by more than one family.

We also believe that Ontario should undertake a preferential purchasing policy for small business. It should be possible to set a target of 40 per cent of all government contracts and subcontracts to be awarded to small business within a three year period.

The Government has announced that a Judicial Enquiry will be held into the matter of the exemption from payment of $660,000 in land speculation tax granted to Ronto Development Co. of Willowdale. When this question was discussed in the Public Accounts Committee last December, the then Minister of Revenue admitted that the decision to grant the exemption might have been based on insufficient information. It had been his understanding that the company was in serious financial trouble, and that the 2,300 housing units under construction would not have been completed had the exemption not been made when the company sold land near Brantford to George Wimpey (Canada) Ltd. for $12 million. Opposition Members argued that Ronto was apparently speculating, and proceeded part way with the project only to avoid the tax. The Minister admitted that the Cabinet decision was based on a report from his staff, on the sole basis of a letter from Toronto Lawyer Eddie Goodman.

Recently the Public Accounts Committee decided that the best way to clear up doubts about the tax exemption was to refer the matter to a select committee for a full investigation. However, the committee was subsequently technically dissolved, pending the re-opening of the Legislature. The Government has indicated that a Judicial Enquiry is considered to be the best forum for a full investigation into the tax exemption and the question of whether or not any undue or inappropriate influence was brought to bear.

See you next week.

Throughout the year, the craft club, under the capable direction of Mrs. Kenney, have been meeting Thursdays to learn new crafts. Their latest projects are tie-dyeing and batik.

Our boys' senior and junior volleyball teams travelled to Peterborough, April 14, to participate in the final volleyball tournament of this year. Although the teams didn't win many games this season, they showed good sportsmanship and effort. Congratulations!

Few members of the public are aware of the endless hours of preparation that the Glee Club's very enjoyable musical productions require each year. The students have worked hard all year, devoting their own time, towards this year's Gilbert and Sullivan's "Ruddigore". Of course, none of this is possible without their very talented and gifted director and pianist, Mr. Bill Glendon. Already, the Glee Club has performed "Ruddigore" twice in Bancroft, April 15. Their next performance will be in Fenelon Falls, April 30. Be sure to come out and enjoy "Ruddigore" May 4-7, when it will be performed in Haliburton.

shafted three times in a row by three different service stations owned by three different oil companies, to tune of about $200 and a great deal of personal inconvenience.

In each case the ineptness of the so-called "service" was equalled only by the rapacity of the operators. My first impulse was to name names and lay the sordid facts on the line. But I was boiling so buoyantly that there was no way I could have written an honest, objective account of the piracy I was subjected to, so I'm glad I slept on it.

I didn't want to label all Sunoco, Fina and Gulf service station operators as highwaymen, because that would have maligned a couple of local operators who have not, to my knowledge, while I was watching, mugged me. They were not involved.

Suffice it to say that the next time you see Wayne and Shuster doing one of those comedy commercials in which you are assured that a big American oil company's only aim in life is to give you the best possible service at the lowest possible cost, switch to a soap ad. At least the soap merchants con you blatantly, and take you to the cleaners literally, rather than figuratively, as the oil companies do.

And I thought plumbers were rough! After tangling with a few "mechanics" in a few days, I could have kissed an honest plumber who chanced along. He'd probably have charged me five bucks for the privilege of kissing him, but he'd have looked good after those various grease-monkeys who seemed more interested in rape than kissing.

Nobody wants to hear my troubles, but I don't care. I have to purge myself of this bile or I'll be sour on servicemen all spring. I don't want to go through my life hating mechanics. Some of my best friends are mechanics. But I wouldn't want my daughter to marry one. On second thought maybe I would. She'd certainly be financially secure for life.

Now, the sad saga. It was March blowing itself out like a polar walrus. Bitter cold, wind gusting to about 50. We were on our way to the city for a couple of days. Stopped for coffee at one of those big drive-in restaurant service stations which have nothing going for them except a monopoly. Their coffee is lousy, their food is swill, their staff is surly, slovenly, stupid, or all three. You know the kind I mean. Terrific architecture with nothing inside. You've been stung before, and sworn you'd never do it again, but there's nothing else for another forty miles.

Drank the lukewarm dishwater they call coffee. Turned the key to get going. Nothing. Couldn't be the starter. Had just had a whole new unit put in, two weeks before, at a cost of $70. Must be the battery, in that very chill wind.

No problem. Get a boost. Walked around to service centre. Nobody home. Out front three young gas-jockeys pumping fuel like made. Tried to get some help. Was almost completely ignored. Finally, one of them told me with some delight that the mechanic was on holidays, that the two-truck was away somewhere, and that he personally was too busy to even lift the hood.

Mounting frustration and seething anger commencing. But I'm a patient man, a reasonable man. Finally, kid arrives with tow-truck. Gives battery a boost. I turn key, with relief. Horrible screeching sound. No more. Everything dead. The kid reckoned my new starter unit had just stripped its guts out. He was just guessing of course.

A little background music here. We were on our way to hear our daughter play in a concert. Her mother had brought a complete new corduroy outfit, made by hand for the girl to wear at the concert. And there we were stranded at a wind-swept "service" station forty miles from anywhere.

Only by dint of great forbearance and awesome threats of law suits did I get one of those turkeys to call a garage in the nearest town, and arrange to have the car towed there and repaired.

We hitched a ride down the road with two lovely women from up north, bless their good souls, and they took us into the city, getting themselves thoroughly lost in the process. Tax to concert site. Daughter doesn't want new outfit. Missed concert. Taxi to hotel. Total taxi bill, $14.00. O.K. No sweat.

Next morning, phone garage to which car towed. Sure he can fix. No problem. "You pick up tomorrow. Before noon. I quit noon."

Next day, taxi 45 miles north (no bus) to garage. Car fixed. Bill $99.00. Garageman won't accept credit card though sign n window says he will. Borrow enough from cabbie to get car out of hock. Decent cabbie, took cheque, was sympathetic. His cab bill, $40.

Drive car all way back to city. Something wrong; doesn't steer right. Whole day shot. Arrive hotel, no parking space left at the inn.

And I'm skipping over the bad parts. I'm sure this bitter little tale has mechanics everywhere slapping their knees in hilarity. But I'm afraid it left a slightly rotten taste in my mouth.

One service station made a mess of the job in the first place. The second on advertised service and gave none. The third guy hosed me to the hilt because I was comparatively helpless, and was ugly about it into the bargain.

I'm sure there are some good service stations, somewhere. I'd like to come across one. And maybe there is one among the many American oil companies operating in Canada which is more interested in good service than selling gas. Maybe.

From the Chamber by Bob Stinson

No individual has the right to be part of and take advantage of a community without some personal input into that community on his behalf. This point was raised and expanded upon at a meeting of the Ontario Private Campgrounds Assoc. at the Wagon Wheel last Saturday morning. The Chamber was pleased to be invited and it was during a discussion of Chamber of Commerce activities that the President of their association made this statement. It was agreed that community involvement was not just something we should be doing with our spare time, but a commitment, something we really owed to our neighbours and to the community as a whole. Everywhere we look we see worthwhile organizations striving to undertake very meaningful projects but suffering from the lack of manpower. If you are not involved in one of these now, we urge you to do so and if you want to know more about any of them, maybe we can give you some advice at the Chamber of Commerce.

While we're preaching, we'd like to say something also about some of the unsightly relics laying about our country side. At this time of year, as the weather is warming up and we start thinking of the summer season ahead, we also notice, as we drive around the country side, the great number of old cards and various other relics laying about and spoiling our beautiful scenery. To a county, such as ours, that relies almost entirely on tourism for its economic base, this condition is almost unforgivable. Let's clean up our act.

We attended the dinner at the Pinestone Inn, featuring the Honorable Frank Millar, Minister of Natural Resources, as guest speaker. We were rather impressed that Mr. Millar may bring new viewpoints to this Ministry. He is a resort owner in Muskoka himself and is far more sympathetic to some of our problems than his predecessor. When we questioned him from the floor he stated most definitely that his policy will be to bring Provincial Parks pricing policy into line with private parks to avoid what has been an unfair competitive situation. He stated that the user of Provincial Parks presently is only paying for 34 percent of their operating costs. When asked if he thought the mercury pollution in lake trout was a problem, he laughed, and said "not really, in seventeen years as a resort owner, in Muskoka, one of my guests has yet to catch a lake trout". At this point it was agreed that something must be done to improve our fishing potential in both Haliburton and Muskoka but that about a two million dollar increase in his ministry's budget would be necessary to attack the problem.

In our newsletter last week, we announced that an illuminated coming events sign would be erected at the Chamber of Commerce office and that Frank Dunsford would be accepting orders for advertising signs around the perimeter of it from our members. Frank tells us the response has been good and there are only a few spaces left at this time, so, if you haven't called him and you wish to be on the sign, please do so today.

We have quite a number of new people in our business community to tell you about this week and we do hope you will all welcome them heartily to our area. Mr. & Mrs. William Ullenbaum have just purchased Kenmar Lodge near Ingoldsbys. As you may know, Kenmar has not been actively operated as a lodge for some years and will be renovated to once again operate as such. Kenmar has a very nice dining room and Bill hopes to make this facility available not only to guests but to people in the surrounding area. Bev and Ed Elias have just purchased Loralea Lodge on Highway 35 at Hall's Lake, and we are sure that they will do well at that busy location. Last year Al

Along the Trails by Roy Bates

Directors of the Haliburton County Snowmobile Association have given themselves a few weeks of well-earned rest after their most successful season so far. Their grooming program was extended, with the acquisition of a second Bombi, to approximately 200 miles. Several new trails were established this year and many, many miles of old trails were improved upon. They will meet this week to ponder the question, "Where do we go from here?"

One of the largest problems facing the Board at this time is the rejuvenation of the board itself. A number of directors have indicated a desire to step down from active participation. They have worked long and hard for the Association and certainly deserve a respite. But, they must be replaced with persons of integrity who are willing to give up a goodly portion of their spare time to furthering the work of the organization. These replacements should, of course, be snowmobilers but even more importantly, they should have a strong feeling for the community. And not just for Haliburton - or just for Minden - or just any other section, but for the County as a whole. The Haliburton County Snowmobile Association was formed to be, has been, and must continue to be, a forceful unit working for the good of the people of the County.

We have heard inferences from time to time that the Association was Haliburton oriented, or Minden oriented or Haliburton and Minden oriented and that its directors had little interest in other parts of the County. Such inferences are entirely unfounded. The fact of the matter is, and has been, that active participation from outlying sectors is damned hard to find or to keep. The Association had a director in Dorset for one year early in its history. Dorset trails got marked on the map, but there has been no participation from Dorset since. A few years later there was a director from Harcourt. In that season, two men were employed by the Association in the area, and a good bit of trail improvement was done there, but where is the Harcourt participation, today? We feel that the Minden-Haliburton-Halls Lake directorship has done exceptionally well to establish a groomed trail network that stretches from Moores Falls to Martin's Mill, and loops south to Irondale and North to Kennis, with the meager assistance or direction it has received from any outlying point.

The HCSA would be pleased to extend its efforts to the extent of its capacity, into all sectors of the County. It cannot do so until people are willing to come forward to explain what is needed, where it is needed, and who can drum up enough help to get each project started.

Snowmobilers - if you would have the Association active in your area, get your area active in the Association. When the date of the next general meeting is announced, as it will be soon, make definite plans to attend. See to it that a competent representative of your area gets elected to the board and then support him.

You may be surprised at how soon you, too, will have groomed snowmobile trails.

THE SEVEN-PER-CENT SOLUTION

Normalization becoming very important to some Normalization. The word may not mean much to you. You may not even find it in your dictionary.

But for more than two million Canadians, or one tenth of our population, the word is becoming increasingly important.

The Canadians in question are approximately 640,000 mentally retarded citizens and their parents and families. For them, normalization brings almost revolutionary hope and new expectations.

Normalization, simply put, means letting the mentally retarded person obtain an existence as close to the normal as possible.

It means for example, that the mentally retarded person be given the chance to do things we've long denied him, because our expectations of him were so low.

It means we must free him to live in more normal settings. Sleeping in wards of 50 or more, taking every meal in huge cafeterias, or bathing in mass showers will never produce normal behaviour. So we must change that.

It means we must free him to move and communicate in ways typical for his age; to use typical community resources be they recreational, religious, medical, social or whatever. Being isolated in remote institutions or hospitals where one is labelled as a patient or inmate, and where one cannot mix with other community residents or enjoy community amenities, is hardly conducive to normal behaviour. So we must change that.

For too long, we have reduced the potential and normalcy of the mentally retarded person, and have further retarded his development. We have stressed the negative, not the positive. We have pointed out his "differentness" not his likeness to the rest of us. The mentally retarded person, for his part, being neither vocal nor articulate, has accepted his fate quietly. The Canadian Association for the Mentally Retarded and its nine provincial and 350 local associations are trying to change that. And we all must help.

Normalization therefore means many things for the mentally retarded. But it also means something for those of us who make up the so-called "normal" segment of society.

It's time we revolutionized our thinking. It's time we raised our expectations of the mentally retarded.

Old attitudes and fears die hard.

But let's give normalization - and the mentally retarded - a chance. 15 years ago, a group of concerned citizens accepted the challenge of normalization for the mentally retarded and initiated a service known as "Haliburton County and District Association for the Mentally Retarded."

This Association received its charter from the Ontario Association on April 27, 1961.

Following an organizational period, our first school for retarded children opened its doors in January of 1962 with seven students in attendance. This school operated in the Haliburton United Church until 1966 when we moved to Tory Hill and joined with North Hastings County, enrolling 18 students in all.

In January 1969, the newly formed County Board of Education assumed the responsibility for our school.

This transfer brought our retarded children one step closer to "finding their place in society."

long) to go at the beginning. It is really important to be disciplined about this and not get over enthusiastic and do too much at the start. If you push yourself too hard, you are more likely to strain muscles, and tendons. If you make yourself unnecessarily uncomfortable and fatigued, you are more likely to quit. Look at it this way, if you wish to become fit and remain so, you will be exercising at least 4 or 5 days a week for the rest of your life. So there's no need to hurry. Do what you can do now reasonably comfortably and push yourself gently to do more. The first six weeks are the hardest. About that time, you will begin to notice the difference and it will seem worthwhile.

A good source of detailed exercise programs is Aerobics by Kenneth Cooper or the New Aerobics by the same author. The first is for men, the second for men and women. There is also a book Aerobics for Women by Mildred Cooper. All three are published by Bantam Books. The exercises in these books are based on a point system. Men need at least 30 points a week to stay in condition, and work up to this gradually over a 10 to 16 week period. That would mean you need about 6 points on the average each time you exercise. (You should exercise at least 4 times a week). Examples of "6 point" exercises are: running 1 1/2 miles in under 15 minutes, running and walking 2 miles in under 24 minutes, bicycling 6 miles in under 24 minutes, bicycling 8 miles in under 48 minutes, running in place 15 minutes at 80-90 steps per minute, running in place 17 minutes at 70-80 steps per minute.

Of course you don't start out at this level. It is important, as the saying goes, to "walk before you run" - literally. A couple of weeks of brisk walking a mile each day prepares legs and feet for gradually going faster. In fact it is possible to earn your points without ever speeding up to a run if you are willing to walk far enough.

I'll write more about running and walking next week.

The Five Best Doctors anywhere, And no one can deny it, Are doctors Sunshin, Water, Air, Exercise and Diet.

The Out of Doors. On these warmer days the residents are saying, "don't fence me in". Most of them have spent a great part of their lives in the wide open spaces and don't take kindly to being "shut-in". With the summer weather here it is to be hoped that more of our activities will shift to the out of doors.

We need more summer furniture for lounging around with some protection from the sun. We are a little behind schedule in our Parkland Project, but hope to get started soon on the shuffleboard court, the stone barbecue, the flower beds and more out of doors furniture. The furniture will not only be comfortable but will also add to the park's appearance. I wonder sometimes whether we realize how lucky we are to have such pure fresh air. In many places a hundred factories pour their fumes into the air and contaminate it.

I am amused by a few of our city friends who come here in the summer for their holidays. They come here but are not a part of us - in fact they bring their city ways with them. Some of them stay indoors from 70% to 90% of the time and do just about the same things that they would if still in the city. The whole realm of nature all around seems to be a closed book. I imagine it is a case of having been caught too late for our kind of life. Thank goodness there are not many of them.

On Monday the 11th we had games and exercises in the morning and in the afternoon we took our basket weaving out of doors. On Tuesday the 12th The Happy Gang held a special meeting at which Berkley Feir was elected President succeeding Jake Gill who recently resigned. Mr. Charles Welch now the manager of our Country Store was made a Director. The most pressing project requiring prompt attention was such out of doors matters as the shuffleboard court, the stone barbecue and the raised plots for flower plants.

On Tuesday afternoon, Mrs. Miram Lewis and Dr. O.W. Anderson attended a horticulture lecture and demonstration on pruning at the Haliburton Highlands Guild of Fine Arts.

Wednesday the 13th was transplanting day for placing our newly grown plants into plastic cups. On Wednesday afternoon Mrs. Mary Packard of the library showed us some movies.

Thursday morning of the 14th we had another work out to loosen us up and for the first time took a crack at playing Charades. Not knowing the signs for the short cuts made it difficult for the actors to get their sentences across but even at that there were some successful guesses. With more experience this could be a challenging and interesting game and especially so if we divided up into two teams.

Our devotional period on Friday the 15th was led by the Rev. Trevor Denny. His theme was "overcoming depression". At times we feel sorry for ourselves and worry. Isolation is poison. Get in touch with others. Rely on the verses of the Bible "Praise the Lord when not in good spirit." Give to Him with both hands. Our resident Mrs. Flössie Burk acted as pianist. Friday afternoon, we also did more transplanting under Dr. Anderson's leadership.

The Association then turned its efforts to establishing and operating a workshop for those who could no longer attend school. The workshop program was started in 1969.

Letters of Patent from the Province of Ontario incorporating the Association as a non-profit organization were received from the Province on October 2, 1970. Effective from April 1, 1971, the workshop program was approved for financial assistance then available from the Department of Family Services, Vocational Rehabilitation Services Branch.

In September 1972, the location of the workshop was moved to the village of Haliburton. Here, ARC Industries operates in the Lakeview Centre side by side with the Haliburton Guild and Haliburton School of Fine Arts.

Continuing efforts have been made over the years to upgrade the services available in the workshop and the quality of the programs being offered. The objective of our Association is to include provision of services for the 70 identified retarded persons in the County of Haliburton, wherever feasible. This includes intensive planning for future program expansion to attract and draw forth many persons who live in the county but are not receiving benefit from the existing programs.

For the Association to accomplish these objectives, it must have the moral and financial support of the community it serves. The Flowers of Hope Campaign is an annual fund raising event and a major source of the Association's income. All proceeds from this campaign remain in the County and are spent directly on programs.

When the bright yellow "Flowers of Hope" envelope arrives please support your Local Association for the Mentally Retarded.

No signs to show direction to county

In response to a resolution of the Haliburton County Council, at its March meeting, requesting adequate signing at the junction of Highway 11 and Muskoka Road 4 that would indicate the direction to the county, Stanhope Council learned last Wednesday of an answer that was positive, or they felt, to the point. John Eakins, MPP Victoria-Haliburton, contacted the Deputy Minister of the Ministry of Transportation and Communications, after the March county council meeting, and word of the result of the delegation was sent by the County Warden, to Stanhope council members who initiated the action.

The Ministry noted that its usual policy was to indicate the county names at boundaries only. Road signs were to be kept to a minimum, the reply noted, and more detailed information was to be gathered by the tourist from the official road maps.

Stanhope council resolved to reply to the apparent decision to say that they were not asking for a designation of the county boundary, but wanted a general information sign that would direct travellers to some part of the county.

Man charged with cottage break-in Roger Paul Desy, 26, of RR 2, Welland, has been charged in connection with a break, enter and theft at a cottage in the Haliburton area.

There was about $55 in property stolen from a cottage owned by Clifford Fearney, of Woods Road, Haliburton about one month ago. The incident was not reported.

Should school music program include bag pipes

Should the music program at Haliburton Highlands Schools include bag pipe instruction? The Haliburton County Board of Education showed interest in the proposition at the April 12 meeting. Although they acknowledged some arguments against the suggestion, they agreed to send the matter for consideration to a principal's meeting for discussion, with a report of their opinions to come to the next Board meeting.

The suggestion to incorporate pipe instruction into the music program came by a letter from Don Johnson Band Master of the Haliburton County Pipe and Drum Band.

Mr. Johnson, spoke of a decline in the recruitment of young people for the band, largely because of the long distances they have to travel at night for practices. He wonders if piping could be taught in grades six, seven and eight in the schools.

Earl Cooper, trustee of Dysart et al, a member of the band, explained that a minimum of two years instruction is needed before students would play in the band, as "it is more difficult an instrument than some realize."

An instructor who is supply teaching in Peterborough, Mr. Cooper noted, might meet the need if the decision to implement instruction was made.

It was noted, however, that the number of students that might become interested in the pipe band would be small for the amount of time and expenditure involved. Len Salvatori, Dysart et al trustee suggested that it might be a program that could be carried on after school.

The discussion ended with the agreement to refer the matter to a meeting of principals.

Business and economics

Provincial Liberal Leader Stuart Smith, David Peterson, M.P.P., London Centre, and John Eakins, M.P.P., Victoria-Haliburton, held a press conference in the media studio at Queen's Park, to announce a Liberal policy on business and economics.

Mr. Eakins stated, "In recent years governments have hindered the growth of the private sector through bureaucratic regulations and red tape, and by taking over an increasing proportion of available resources themselves, leaving less and less to the more competitive and efficient private sector to develop. For our economy to grow in a healthy manner, a new balance must be established between the public and private sectors. Each can assist the proper functioning of the other."

"A healthy economy should consist of mix of small, medium and large firms, since each enterprise has a different optimal size in terms of efficiency and effectiveness, depending on the market it serves. A constant flow of new venture start-ups is necessary in order to preserve this mix by preventing a natural tendency toward industrial concentration. Small firms do operate effectively and efficiently in specific sectors."

"While government policy has done much to assist medium and large corporations, through the use of tax incentives, write-offs, credits and deferrals, etc., little has been done to aid small business. This sector must be viewed as a separate entity. Policies designed to benefit large corporations often have a negative impact on small business. At the least their problems and needs are not the same. It is now time, indeed it is long overdue, for government to come to the aid of small business."

This weeks feature is a functional but low cost 4-bedroom side split, suitable for all areas in Canada. Individual tastes and budgets dictate different home types. But overall, the split level home offers maximum living area, because the entire house can be utilized without constant use of long stairs.

The width of todays home of the week is 45 feet overall, allowing it to fit on a comparatively small lot, typical of todays subdivisions in urban centres. It is basically important, however, to inquire about street set back, side and rear yard allowances at your local building department before deciding upon any design.

The exterior of this home is quite unique in that it breaks from the usual frontal appearance and offers a tudor motif while still maintaining the brick veneer cladding. If siding or stucco is preferred instead of brick, this can be achieved with no difficulty whatsoever.

One is given the impression of spaciousness, created by the side split in the foyer. The entry can be made extremely impressive by use of carefully selected lighting fixtures. The large coat closet in the entry has mirrored 8 foot doors which, besides being functional, are also most attractive.

The living room and formal dining room are combined and again we have the awareness of expanse brought upon by the high ceilings. The formal dining room is designed in such a manner as to accommodate a large dining room suite.

The kitchen is well laid out in a U-shape, incorporating ample cabinet space and easy accessibility to all appliances. Corner cabinet areas are well utilized by means of lazy susans.

For informal dining, space is provided in the eating nook which overlooks the cosy family room and fireplace. A 6 foot sliding patio door leads from the family room to a rear patio, which is ideally suited to indoor-outdoor summer living.

Access to the house is also achieved by means of a door from the double garage and utility room where the washer, dryer and downstairs powder room are located.

A roomy basement below living, dining and kitchen areas gives excellent storage, furnace area and potential games room or other additional rooms.

On the upper floor there are four bedrooms ideally suited to the larger family. The master bedroom is complimented by a walk-in closet and 2-piece ensuite. The additional vanity and sink in the dressing room is also an important attribute. Three good size bedrooms complete the sleeping area.

Construction costs in this design are minimized by the fact that the house is almost a square with few corners, which always tend to escalate costs.

Plans for design No. 76-1939 may be obtained at a cost of $70 for the first set and $9. for each additional set, plus $3.50 for postage and handling. B.C. residents please include 7 percent sales tax.

Send for the current edition of Select Home Designs, Series #33 featuring imaginative decorating and home improvement ideas plus more than 300 quality home plans of every type. Available for $2.25 ($1.75 plus 50 cents postage and handling.) To order these items please send cheque or money order payable to the Home of the Week. Address to: Home of the Week, c/o The Haliburton County Echo, 382 West Broadway, Vancouver, B.C. V5Y 1R2.
